DIED FOR DUTY.

A fireman lost his life at the Bleecke street fire. When the worn-out laddies of No. 2 Patrol returned to the station-house they did not know that they were leaving one of their comrades crushed and charred eneath the smoking ruins.

Fireman James Spellman, in obedience to Capt. Grove's command, made his way to the third floor to check the flames. But the fire had gone too far and before he could escape the roof fell in, burying him in a flaming tomb.

Again and again does the New York fire man show that he is a hero. Whether he dies in some attempt of noble daring to or ave months in Europe have built her up a mave life or perishes in the discharge of the great deal and she looked the picture of radiant ordinary duties of his calling he is worthy of the highest admiration. Spellman was a widower and left a son ten years of age. It is only the most ordinary recognition o the noble fellow who died to see that thi child and whoever else depended on the fireman be provided for. Let us show some appreciation of a Department which rves so much gratitude.

CLUB WARFARE.

The Union Club has taken an unusus step which indicates a recognition on it part of the influence the new club of the ionaires will have upon it, and shows a timely attitude of defense. The Governor will hold a special meeting in April to elec-200 new members from the waiting list This will probably draw many possible members from the new club. Such rivalry is interesting. The Union Club is so much akin to the proposed new club that there will not probably be a desire on the part of its members to belong to the millionaires' association. Especially i the two clubs regard each other with haughty disdain. The Union is taking time by the forelock, at all events, and is showing fight.

The Physicians Say that He Is Another Dougherty. Louis Armand, who was arrested for pursuing and annoying Mrs. C. B. Alexander,

On the other hand, the physicians who swore that Armand was suffering with paranols, or elusional in auity, make the ominous prediction that he is another Dougherty, Mary An-derson's admirer, who killed Dr. Lloyd at the Fritous Insane Asylum. Dr. Louis C. Pelli, who had charge of Armani on Ward's Island, when asked how he would test Armand and if he kills somebody, piled:

"Liberate him, and if he kills somebody, that will be a good test."

Armand had been writing passionate love letters o Mrs. Alexand r for some time. He warned her f a conspiracy to morder her and other imaginary dangers, whereupon he was alreaded a out five weeks ago to be examined as to his sanity.
